HOEDE ACQUITTED BY SUPREME COURT

Jury Brought in Verdict of Not Guilty Last Night—Prisoners Evidence Gave Unexpected Turn to Case.

Victor Houde was acquitted last night of the charge of causing the death of George Woods in a shack in Edmonton on the night of April 4th last by striking him on the back of the head with a blunt instrument resulting in a fracture of the skull and hemorrhage of the brain. The jury were out 50 minutes when they returned with the unanimous verdict of "Not guilty," whereupon His Honor Justice Scott declared to the prisoners that they were discharged.

The case for the crown was concluded at 8 o'clock yesterday afternoon and the court adjourned until 8 o'clock.

Nothing was disclosed as to the line of argument the crown would take until the court resumed. The case for the defence opened with the accused man in the box. This gave the case a new turn. Up to this time the crown had to prove Houde did the deed by purely circumstantial evidence, for, as the judge said, the tragedy in the shack would forever remain a mystery. Houde tacitly confessed to causing the death of Woods by striking him with a bottle, but by striking him with a bottle, he intended to kill or injure, but merely to defend himself. This left the question for the one of justifiable homicide and the alternative of conviction for manslaughter or acquittal.

The judge in charging the jury said that after the prisoner's evidence there could be no doubt as to who killed Woods. The credibility of the crown witnesses was no longer important. If it had been their evidence would require careful scrutiny. The question to decide was there sufficient provocation to justify the prisoner in thinking his own life was in danger and that force was necessary? Any reasonable doubt, he said, should be given to the prisoner.

Houde's counsel throughout the trial were Messrs. H. H. Robertson, J. Robertson & Dickson, and Mr. H. A. Mackie.

The defence opened with the evidence of the accused man, Victor Houde. He swore he had lived in Edmonton for five years, and was a warehouseman, having worked for various firms in the city.

He told the situation of the shack and the various individuals who lived in the shack. Woods came in from the bush, and had stayed in a shack below Houde's shack. One day Woods came by when witness was sweeping out his shack. Woods came in and asked witness to have a drink. Eventually Woods came to live in the shack. He often brought liquor. As many as 19 flasks and four bottles of whiskey were found around the shack one week. Once they had words and Woods left. On Monday or Tuesday before the murder he applied to the Griffin Co. for a job.

On the morning of the 4th he and Woods left the shack early. About 10 in the morning he returned and made some tea and got some things to eat. Woods came in then. He had a bottle of beer. Witness said this business would have to stop. Woods then struck witness between the eyes and on the nose, and knocked him down. Woods hit witness the second time, and still a third time. Witness then knew no more. He said he was stupid, and when he recovered, he had a bruise on the right eye and his lip was swollen. He washed himself and wiped his hands on the towel. He then went out, he thought and got a few drinks. He came back to get something to eat. Woods came in about evening. It was dark in the shack. Woods asked him what he was doing and he went in and sat on the left chuk cutting his mouth and loosening his teeth. Witness thought he must have hit Woods with a fight with the victim and give up the key to the shack.

He contended that the way the deed was apparently done was quite feasible according to Houde's story in the box. Wood had been on a frolicsome spree, and was in bad temper. He was a large powerful man for whom Houde was no match. He did all in self defence.

He submitted that the evidence of bloodmarks for Wood by the testimony of the medical men, Wood never moved after the blow. Consequently the bloodmarks other than those at the victim's head indicated they were Houde's blood, and bore the evidence of a struggle in which the victim inadvertently got the worst of it.

The counsel charged the jury with the seriousness of the responsibility for joining homicide and contended vigorously from the criminal deed, defining justifiable homicide.

COUNCIL ORDERS ESTIMATES PAID

Claim for Damages Re Isolation Hospital Referred to Commissioners.

The question of the completion of the isolation hospital was discussed last night at the city council. The matter arose as a question by Dr. McCauley on the order paper from the previous meeting, and also by the application of the contractors for payment.

The architects who superintended the work on behalf of the city approved the work, but the commissioners refused to accept his report. The aid arose, felt that there was too much delay with the work now and decided to pay the amount asked and have the city bear the expense of council on behalf of their clients, making the hospital satisfactory.

Waltbridge & McDonald wrote the council on behalf of their clients, asking for payment of damages for the delay in the construction of the isolation hospital.

Similar evidence was given by Messrs. J. H. Garsley, P. E. Lessard and H. G. Goldsmith.

A Turner testified that prisoner applied for work.

Mr. Robertson's Address.

The presentation of the case for the defence occupied one or four hours. Mr. H. H. Robertson, chief counsel for the prisoner, in his address to the jury, occupied half an hour, closing with a strong plea for the acquittal of the prisoner. During his address the prisoner wept and sobbed, but when Mr. Cogswell forged the chain of circumstantial evidence to establish with the crime his face grew tense and set, and he followed every word. Mr. Cogswell epitomized his address in the narrow limits of ten minutes.

Plea for the Defence.

In his opening remarks, Mr. Robertson explained homicide known as murder, and justifiable homicide which was permissible under the law in self-defence. He submitted that there was no intent on the part of the prisoner to commit murder. He contended that the three principal witnesses, Pepper, Peacock and Parks, treated the matter as a joke, and were unreliable. Mr. Beaudry's evidence, he contended, established the plea of defence. He saw Woods as in. He was drunk. She saw Houde come out in about two minutes. No man could precipitate murder in that short time. Mr. Payson's evidence, he contended, fully bore out the statement of the accused. Prisoner took Payson the wrong way at first, towards a shack he formerly lived in. He saw Woods as in a dazed and drunk man would do.

He contended that if Houde had committed the deed he would not have told Pepper and Peacock he had

TO PREVENT COAL SHORTAGE

Saskatchewan Minister Has Plan to Avoid Recurrence of Fuel Famine.

Regina, June 11.—A press representative had an interview today with Hon. W. M. McArthur, minister of agriculture, with regard to the coal shortage scheme. Mr. McArthur said that while the negotiations were still pending and he was unable to go into details, he left at liberty to say that the main feature of the scheme was an arrangement whereby the wholesalers and retailers would be enabled to lay in stocks of coal against the winter without an immediate outlay of capital. In the ordinary course of things and with the present monetary stringency it could not be expected that the trade would get themselves up with coal which they could only hope to sell months ahead. At the same time it was not to be expected that the operators would be willing to lay out of the wages and expenses on the coal mined. The arrangements would ensure some sacrifice on the part of the wholesalers and retailers, but just how they would be arranged he was not prepared to say as yet. Asked how the railway company proposed to help Mr. McArthur said that they had proposed a supply of cars. If all parties to the scheme carried out their part he expected that at the beginning of the winter there would be a storage of between 50,000 and 60,000 tons of coal in Saskatchewan.

MAN DISAPPEARED IN CALGARY

Believed to Have Been Killed by C. P. R. Train.

Calgary, June 12.—A man named S. Williams, his wife and two children, came from Lethbridge last night, intending to go to the States. Williams disappeared at 6 o'clock in the evening and up to an early hour this morning nothing has been learned regarding him.

Lately—Eastbound No. 26 struck an unknown man three miles east of the city this morning. He was walking on the track and was killed instantly. The body was taken on board to Langdon. The police believe the man will be Williams.

Will Fight the Government.

London, June 11.—At a meeting of the Irish parliamentary party in the House of Commons today it was decided to fight the government both in the house and in the constituencies in order to punish the Liberals for failing to give Ireland a broader measure of home rule than contained in the rejected Irish council bill.

Algerman Anderson objected to the principle of letting contracts without having the contractors put up a sufficient bond to ensure good work.

Algerman Anderson stated that the work done had a cheap appearance. The doors and windows were poorly hung, the hinges cheap, the floors unsatisfactory and other details unsuitable. He thought, however, that the best way to settle the matter was to pay the final estimates. He accordingly made a motion to this effect and was seconded by Alderman Macauley.

Alderman Manson and Daly thought the Commissioners were to blame for cutting down the estimates. The motion was finally carried. Alderman Picard alone opposing it as he thought it was wrong of the council to pay for work not properly done. The chief clerk was referred to the city commissioners to report.

MINE INSPECTOR GIVES EVIDENCE

No Notice of Inspection Given Operators—Inspection Every Two Months.

Coleman, June 11.—Elijah Heathcote, mine inspector for the district registered from Medicine Hat west to the British Columbia boundary and from High River on the north to the United States boundary, appeared before the coal commission today and discussed some of the criticisms of his inspection of the mines. He denied that he notified operators when he purposed inspecting a mine. He says they never knew anything about his visit, until it is right on the spot. In case anything happens in a mine to prove that it is dangerous there is a pit committee appointed by the men to inspect, and they can report to the inspector when they finish. Mr. Heathcote inspected every mine in his district once every two months, and he takes from two to four and five days inspecting each mine. He also investigates all accidents and amends the questions. He said there was enough work in his district for two men. He did not think any benefit would arise from posting a copy of the report of a mine which often ran as high as eight pages. He would be willing to fill in a printed form as in British Columbia, and have it posted near the mine. But his experience in British Columbia was that the condemned mines were closed and the owners were not allowed to work. He thought a different view and said the report was always read by a majority of the men.

Two Years for Stealing.

Macloed, June 11.—Walters, 20-year-old man charged with making away with 20,000 feet of lumber, the property of the Leavings Alberta Lumber Co., was today sentenced to two years in the Edmonton penitentiary by Justice Harvey.

Officers Sent Up.

Calgary, June 11.—Policemen Quirk and Fireman Charnonow, tried today on a charge of theft, were committed for trial at the Supreme court.

The board of works today decided to call for tenders for the erection of a new city hall to cost $120,000.

OBITUARY.

The remains of Miss Christina McDonald, daughter of Mrs. Catherine McDonald, arrived in the city last night from Wallace, Idaho. Messrs. Moffatt, McCoppen and Bolt's hearse met the train in Strathmore, and brought the body to the city. The deceased was coming from California to join her family in Edmonton, but became ill at Wallace, Idaho, and died. She was a plant of exceptional talent and taught from any year in New Glasgow, Nova Scotia. The funeral took place this afternoon from the residence of her mother, corner Sixth and Athabasca avenues.

The General Tendered Reception.

Regina, June 11.—General Booth was tendered a splendid reception here on his way east from Japan.

BUFFALO DOING WELL IN THEIR NEW HOME

Settling Down to Life in Alberta—Park Fence Withstood Charges Undamaged—Strangers Warned to Not Approach on Foot.

Mr. F. A. Walker, M.P.E., is in the city today. Mr. Walker has spent a great deal of the last two weeks at the Elk Island park in connection with the settling of the Buffalo bison herd in their new home. He returned from the park on Monday. The majority of the bison are in the open hills at the south side of the park. There are also small bunches scattered through the timber where it is also abundant. With respect to the reports that some of the animals broke through the wire fence, he says it is all fiction. Not one buffalo has broken through the fence around the park and not one strand of wire has been broken. The only occasion when any of the bison broke through has been already described in the Bulletin. It was on the evening when the herd were being driven in. They broke through the temporary fence leading to the park by displacing the post. The fence around the park is made of heavy timber posts sunk deep in the ground. On one occasion, some individuals tried to break the fence, but they were caught by the bison.

The public are warned that it is extremely dangerous to go in the park near the buffaloes on foot. They will surely chase individuals on foot. A man on horseback is safe.

The herd have fully recovered from the shock and privation of the journey from Rivall to Lamont, and are doing well.

STOCKMEN ARE AGAIN HURD

Shrinkage Deductions Loss in Waiting for Cars.

Medicine Hat, Alta., June 11.—The evidence submitted before the beef commission today was much the same as that of yesterday, but some additional facts were elicited when the evidence of W. J. Wilkinson was taken. He had managed extensively on the other side of the line, and stated positively that there was no reduction made for shrinkage by the American buyers. The producers were allowed to take their cattle from the trains and water and feed them before weighing. They regarded this deduction of 5 per cent. for shrinkage as a great hardship.

Mr. Wm. H. Hukvalds, president of the Western Stock Growers' association, disagreed with all other witnesses in taking the ground that the time was not yet ripe for the installation of a chilled meat export trade. He said that the deal was regarded as worth $150 per 100 in England and had under present conditions this would be a dead loss here. The big cattle which combined and sent their cattle to England for sale had all made more money in this way than by selling to the home buyers. On many occasions these buyers had got as far as Winnipeg.

John Day's evidence showed that he had suffered a direct loss of about $2,000 last fall through being obliged to hold his cattle three weeks waiting for the C. P. R. to supply cars. He had asked for the cars a month previous and had been promised them by a certain date in November. Others also lost in the same manner. The majority of the witnesses substantiated that Burns of Calgary and Gordon-Bradford, of Winnipeg, the two principal buyers, bought their cattle together. Burns took the butcher stuff and the export cattle were taken by Gordon-Bradford. This prevented any competition amongst the buyers.

The case of Rex vs. Seymour for incest was opened yesterday in the supreme court.

Evidence is being taken in the case of His Honor Justice Scott after swearing in the jury, dismissed all jurors who had been summoned to attend at this sitting. The interests of the prisoner are being looked after by Geo. O'Connor. Mr. E. B. Cogswell is Crown prosecutor.

STRATHCONA NEWS

EARLY CLOSING BY-LAW AMENDED

Merchants Allowed to Remain Open as Long as They Wish on Saturdays.

All the aldermen but Mr. McKen- zie were present at the regular meeting of the Strathcona council last night. The new secretary-treasurer, H. G. Clark, for the first time performed his duties as clerk of the meeting. After adoption of minutes came the reading of communications.

The mayor wrote with reference to the coming in of Strathcona avenue near Mr. McLennan's property, the rising of plank sidewalks now being replaced by granite, in places where new plank was required, and the concern of the council's jury on the recent mine disaster, for not having procured a hose wagon.

Several letters with reference to the new hose wagon, were laid on the table.

D. W. Johnstone, orderly at the Infirmary hospital, asked for an increase in salary. The letter was referred to the hospital committee.

A petition from the city merchant, asked for the amendment of the early closing bylaw so that it would not refer to Saturday nights and nights before holidays.

Edward Manchester tendered his resignation, which was accepted and arrangement made for securing his successor.

Other letters with reference to the sale of machinery to the city, and other minor matters were filed.

The attorney general's department wrote stating that the government had purchased river lot 5 and asking the taxes due. The secretary-treasurer said it had been assessed at $250,000, but a rate had not yet been struck.

The public works committee reported that the petition for a sidewalk from Whyte ave. to the bridge along the west side of Cameron, was not sufficiently signed on two blocks, 117 and 122, and that these be advertised according to law; also that 10 yards of gravel be purchased at $125.

The sewer and waterworks committee recommended that a portion of the Debt and Main contract be given to Wilson & Gilliland; and also that $1 per month be charged the men on waterworks employment for shelter and that $1 a month be deducted for medical and hospital fees and that a tent be procured for patients.

The sewer and waterworks committee reported that James Alton had been employed as overseer of sewer and water construction at 50 cents per hour; also that first day pay for city laborers be June 22nd from 5 to 6 p.m. and every two weeks hereafter. It was also agreed that a week's pay be retained out of the first cheque in order that there shall always be a week's wages due.

Progress was reported upon a number of other matters, including the trees for the Altondale park. Those trees have not yet arrived and some of the councillors were of the opinion that it was not too late to plant them this late in the season. It was suggested that a part of the purchase money be withheld as the company has agreed to make good any ones that did not grow; also that a proper agreement be drawn up.

Mayor Mills, for the special committee on the street railway, said the council had conferred with the solicitor and were now ready to meet and discuss the question.

The committee on the band stand reported that it had been decided to place the stand on the city hall site and plans were now in course of preparation.

J. F. Weir appeared as a deputation on the petition asking for the amendment of the early closing by-law with reference to the closing on Saturday nights and before holidays. Edmonton bylaw had left these nights to the discretion of the merchants and he urged that Strathcona people be given the same latitude.

H. B. Douglas followed along the same lines.

The petition was discussed at some length by the council, the mayor suggesting that the entire bylaw be repealed. It was agreed that the bylaw be amended to allow the stores to be kept open until 11 on Saturday nights, at any hour they wish on nights before holidays and to open at any hour

VERDICT FOUNDED ON STREET GOSSIP

Bay City Council are Discussing Finding of Coroners Jury

The Strathcona city council are up in arms at what they call the unfounded censure which the coroner's jury in the mine fatalities imposed upon them for not having procured a hose wagon for the firemen.

The matter was last night brought to the attention of the board in a letter from the mayor. He referred to the recent mining disaster and the censure of the coroner's jury. He stated that he had never known that a request had been made for a wagon, if the request had been made why had it not been granted?

Ald. McFarland stated that the matter had never come to the attention of the council. It had been mentioned when procuring other supplies, but the council had been refused to get the wagon as had been stated on its streets.

Chief Groat, being called upon for an explanation, said he had not given evidence at the coroner's inquest. He justly their censure. He had only said such a wagon had been asked for but had not yet been granted.

Ald. Hubert—"That statement then is not correct?"

The chief, proceeding, stated that there apparently was a misunderstanding. He told of the steps he had taken to procure the photos of proposed wagons and information that had been submitted.

Ald. McFarland said further that the fire department had made no recommendation. They simply turned in the carts to the council.

The mayor stated that the council had been censured by the coroner's jury for not having done something that they knew nothing about.

In answer to a question by Ald. McFarland, Chief Groat said that the life of not more than one of the men might have been saved if there had been a hose wagon.

The coroner's jury further discussed the verdict, was "unfounded, uncalled for and not based on the facts."

The mayor thought the difficulty was that the coroner's jury had not seriously considered their verdict and Ald. Rankin ventured the assertion that the jury had to a great extent founded their verdict on street gossip and there was nothing in the evidence to justify their finding.

A resolution was passed on motion of Ald. McFarland, seconded by AIL Elliott, that in the opinion of the council the findings of the coroner's jury were entirely uncalled for and not in accordance with the facts and that the jury should have gone thoroughly into the facts before bringing in their verdict.

They wish in the morning, Aids. McFarland and Crawford writing that the bylaw be repealed in its entirety.

Rev. W. R. George's communication to the library was received. It stated that a librarian could be procured for $100 a year, books and magazines for $200 and room rent $100. A room, he thought could be procured either in the new Bealim block or the I. O. O. F. new building. This communication was referred to a committee composed Ald. Rankin, Elliott and McKenzie.

The chief was authorized to consider the selection of the hose wagon and report as soon as possible to the fire committee and that the chairman be empowered to act upon receiving his report.

The matter of a member of the council attending the convention of the Union of Canadian Municipalities in Port William and Port Arthur, on August 13-16, was laid over until the meeting on July 16th next.

The question of sending the chief and a fireman to the Winnipeg convention on July 17th next, was considered at some length and it was decided to accede to the request and that the choice of a second delegate be left with the brigade.

The dog bylaw and the milk and meat inspection bylaw were given first, second and third readings and passed. By the milk and meat inspection act Mr. J. C. Walbridge was appointed at a salary of $15 per month.

Ald. Rankin inquired why the by-

METHODIST CHURCH.

The pupils of Alberta College gave a recital at McDougall Methodist Church last night, which was much appreciated by a large audience. The whole programme gave evidence of hard work on the part of both pupils and teachers, and this was particularly noticeable in numbers 6 and 14. It would have been well worth one's time to have gone had there only been two numbers on the programme. The fresh young voices and smiling faces of the chorists made a lasting impression on the audience.

The recital was given, however, by students, not masters, and we did not look for perfection. In several numbers the violin was flat. That was perhaps due to the heat of the room. The violin ensemble was excellent in both numbers. Mr. L. D. Kerr sang "The Golden Pathway" very well. Henry Fairbanks rendered his violin selections admirably for a young boy. Miss E. Hanson accompanied well and sang very carefully. Although Winifred Heathcote played her selection from Dancels well, she was evidently not at her best, being rather nervous.

Miss Myrtle Currie proved herself a skillful pianist, her touch was in places perhaps a little heavy and uneven. Miss Verna Brice sang "The Man of Sorrows" excellently. Ralph Huels showed decided talent in his rendering of the "Ballade." Miss Hazel Anderson is the fortunate possessor of a beautiful voice and will no doubt soon win laurels for herself. She has the best wishes of music lovers of Edmonton for her success in the thorny path she must tread before she reaches the desired goal. Last night her voice seemed at times to go a little flat, and her nervousness at the end of the first song was apparent. In that exquisite song of Godard's, "Angels Guard Thee," which she sang very sweetly. She appeared to much better advantage, her breathing and expression were considerably better than at first. Mr. R. B. Teller showed great courage in playing without his score, and the fact that he missed some of his notes in the "Romanza" is not to be wondered at. His playing showed skill and talent.

The whole programme was a credit not only to those taking part, but to their teachers as well.

The following is the programme:

THE SOVEREIGN QUITE SOUND

Best Fund Appropriated to Make Good the Losses to Capitalization Reduced.

Toronto, June 11.—At a meeting of the Sovereign bank today the shareholders learned officially of the conditions for the first time, which warranted the new management in wiping out the bank reserve fund and in addition writing off one-quarter of the entire capitalization. A full and frank explanation was made by President Jarvis and the shareholders were assured that at the present time the bank is in a thoroughly sound condition with an established business and profitable connections. The dividend at the rate of six per cent is to be continued. The losses may be briefly summarized as follows: Bad debts, $200,000; depreciation in securities, $150,000; depreciation in premises, $40,000; doubtful debts, $54,000; unsatisfactory advances, $50,000. To make good these amounts it was decided to appropriate the whole of the rest account and to write off a quarter of the capital. The rest fund amounted to $1,250,000, and the capital wiped out was $1,000,000.

MEN WANTED.

The labor supply in the west is hopelessly short of the demand. Railroads, municipalities, building contractors, construction companies are engaging all the men offered and calling for more.

It is something of an anomaly that though people are pouring into the country more rapidly than ever before, never was the demand so great between the number who were wanted to work and the number who could not find work.

The new-comers, too, are industrially more competent of late years, and whereas the immigrant a few years since were almost exclusively farmers, large numbers of laborers, artisans and mechanics of all walks in life now join the annual rush to the west. But even this influx has been insufficient to equal with the rapidly increasing requirements. The more who come, the more appear still to be needed.

The situation in the west is not so much that workers are few as that work is abnormally plentiful. The west is accomplishing in years what in other countries it takes decades to accomplish. Work which in other countries is spread over decades is here being done in years, and tasks which afforded employment for years in other countries are here being rushed to completion in a few months. And this along with many avenues of employment and on so large a scale that nothing short of an economic miracle could supply workmen for every task.

The construction of the Canadian Pacific Railway occupied more than ten years, and that at a time when employment of other kinds was notoriously slack; the Grand Trunk Pacific is to be rushed to completion in a little over half that time if men and money can do it, and that at a time when other employment is abnormally plentiful throughout the Dominion. The other western railroads have abandoned the policy of extending only when settlements demanded it; they now rush through the lines in anticipation of settlement.

The cities of Eastern Canada were generally of leisurely growth, and the work of building and equipping them was spread over generations of workers; western cities are being built and equipped with unprecedented rapidity, in a single lifetime, and that not in two or three but in a score of instances.

Industrial establishments in the older provinces generally began in very humble and unpretentious enterprises and the work of extending them, for large concerns were extended over years or decades; their branches in Western Canada are being established at the outset on a scale which rivals the parent enterprises in their demands upon the labor market.

It is unavoidable that this abundance of work should create disappointments and delays in the completion of new enterprises of many kinds. Railway construction, municipal improvement and private enterprise are all being retarded and certain to be retarded simply because men cannot be secured to carry the work within the intended time. A signal instance of this and probably the most generally important is the delay in the construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific. A year ago it was confidently asserted that the new line would be completed as far as Edmonton in time for the opening of the year 1907. This is now an admitted impossibility, for the reason that men cannot be secured to carry the work through. The delay of the Grand Trunk Pacific is in large measure indicative of the general delay of western enterprises for lack of sufficient workmen.

That work is more plentiful than workers is merely an evidence and an incident of our prosperity. Abundance of work invariably means good wages, and abundance of work with good wages is the best possible proof that people have money to spend, and that they are spending it in a way that brings prosperity to the community generally. Better than the community that the opportunities for employment should be more numerous than the men seeking employment, rather than that the men seeking work should be more numerous than the available jobs. Scarcity of work invariably means lower wages and harder conditions of life for the workmen. And the conflict of life of the artisan, the mechanic and the laborer determine very directly the conditions of life of other classes. Far better the delays and inconveniences incidental to an abundance of labor than the analysis of "hard times."

Do Not Examine Too Closely

Montreal Herald: The most of us have gone into an art gallery at one time or another, and have gone to see some painting which we have heard highly praised, and at the first view have experienced of disappointment and have been ready to pronounce it a mere dupe. Then we realized that we were too near, and as we gradually moved away from it until we reached the place where it reached itself into a beautiful picture, revealing the soul of the painter and touching our hearts by its exquisite beauty or the depths of sentiment portrayed.

We know what it is to stand too near a hand, where instead of real music there seems to be only deafening noise, where one instrument seemed to be trying to outdo another. We have moved away from it and when we reached the proper distance we felt the harmony of it and wondered that it could be the same as that which had been so unpleasant.

We saw the beauty of the picture because we looked at it as a whole, and were not close enough to grasp the details. We felt the harmony because we were not near enough to hear the separate instruments. The painter intended to convey his message through the picture as a whole, not through the separate details; the band must be listened to as a whole in order to realize the beauty of the music, for the different instruments were only parts of the whole.

Many a life, if studied closely, is disappointing because we look at the details and study the failings too plainly, forgetting to balance them with the merits which would probably outweigh them; but if we look at that life from the proper point of view we see a thing of beauty. The faults which stood out so glaringly are lost in the light of the merit which make the life beautiful. It is only the old failing which has caused so much trouble in the world—only which we all have a share—that tendency which makes us want to know a little more, especially when further knowledge may make that which we are looking at seem of lesser beauty or lesser good. But we punish ourselves, for we lose much of the beauty and joy of this world by studying the details which so often bring only disappointment where we had had perfect satisfaction.

Which Are You

Lethbridge Herald: We recently saw one of our citizens going home with a small basket of fruit. A few evenings later we passed him again and he had a small package of candy. On both occasions we were talking with the same gentleman who remarked to us that the man with the candy was a good fellow, but blew in all he made so foolishly. We merely smiled in reply, but could not help, in our own mind, as we walked along, drawing a contrast between the two men. One was smoking a cigar that cost as much as the candy. Burning into ashes and blowing out into the air the money the other spent for nibbles that brought a smile of happiness to the cheek he once thought so rosy, and gladdened eyes that still sparkled like a thousand diamonds with their tell-tale love for him, carrying home one by one the sweetest memories of life; building evening after evening an image in a little heart of "Home, Sweet Home," in his time, even to eternity, would destroy; nourishing and kindling a new love that would in old age look back to those happy home comings and bless his memory as the dearest man that ever lived.

But what of our friend the critic? Yes, what of him? Which of the two had rather have been? Which of the two are you?

WARNING TO MUNICIPALITIES.

At a recent meeting of the Imperial Bank directors the General Manager, Mr. D. E. Wilkie, issued a note of warning to municipalities that are accumulating liabilities at a rather rapid rate without due precaution as to where the payments are to be met. Mr. Wilkie said:

"Before sitting down I should like to say a word regarding the danger to municipalities of incurring liabilities and creating expenditures in excess of what is prudent or has been provided for. I have in mind at the moment certain western municipalities that have, through extravagance and want of foresight, incurred responsibilities for which they are unable to provide."

"except through temporary loans upon issues of debentures which they have been unable to dispose of. We know that in the case of one large city in Manitoba as high as eight per cent. interest has been paid on temporary loans and we know of others that have been unable to dispose of their securities at any reasonable rate. Municipal extravagance is just as serious and as fatal to the success of the municipality as personal extravagance would be in the individual, perhaps worse, as in the case of municipalities proper."

"The danger of the municipality is not in the fact that it has incurred liabilities, but in the fact that it has incurred liabilities which it is unable to pay. It is not the fact that it has incurred liabilities, but in the fact that it has incurred liabilities which it is unable to pay. It is not the fact that it has incurred liabilities, but in the fact that it has incurred liabilities which it is unable to pay."

DEFENCE TRIES TO SHAKE ORCHARD'S STORY

Boise, Idaho, June 10.—In further cross-examination of Harry Orchard today, counsel for William D. Haywood repeatedly injected the suggestion of a great counter-conspiracy formed and carried out by the enemies of the Western Federation of Miners and indicated a determination to direct the main line of defense in that field. They carried Orchard by slow movements through the minute details from the dynamiting of the Independence, Colorado, station, down to the attempt in the life of Fred Bradley and his family in San Francisco. Besides a series of particular attacks upon the creditability of the witness and the general probability of his story, and in preparation for their own testimony in rebuttal, the defense sought to show that Orchard has a mania for boasting of the commission of imaginary crimes and that he is testifying under the control and in the suggestion of Detective McFarland.

The defense began today by making clear that so far as Orchard knew Haywood, Meyer and Pettibone had nothing to do with inspiring, planning or carrying out the Independence mine explosion and that Haywood and Meyer had nothing to do with planning the murder of Detective Gregory. They passed then to the dynamiting of the Independence station, the first crime with which the testimony of Orchard directly connects Haywood, to show that in springing the mine, Orchard purposely sought to spare the coming train, and that the whole plot was engineered by agents of mine-owners and railway managers, who wanted a comparatively harmless "outrage" to injure the union miners, who were on a strike. Leaving the Independence station crime, which was followed by the flight of Orchard into Wyoming and the unexpected return to Denver, the defense sought to discredit his statement that he had directed Orchard to kill "Andy" Mayberry by showing that Haywood and Mayberry were old and intimate friends. Coming to the attempt to kill Bradley the defense devoted itself largely to the story of Orchard's attempt to poison Bradley, endangering the rest of the Bradley household, including an infant and Mrs. Crow, the cook, with whom he had made friends and whom he had accompanied to the theater. Orchard swore that while in San Francisco he repeatedly received money from Pettibone who used the name of "Pat Boone" in transmitting it. In making this clearer today the defense evidenced an effort to show that this money was sent under Pettibone's disguised name by persons plotting against the leaders of the Western Federation of Miners.

Not a Fake.
Orchard denied that the mine-owners or railway had any part in the Independence station outbreak and a mania for counter-conspiracy committed crimes and denied that he is under the influence of Detective McFarland. He showed some spirit in answering many of Attorney Richardson's questions, but he finally held up to all his first stories. Counsel for state let today's examination take its course without serious objection and at the close privately signified their entire satisfaction. Orchard has been on the stand five days and has fully two more ahead of him. Steve Adams is tonight in Ida County jail and a close cell neighbor to Haywood, Meyer and Pettibone.

Bradley Murder Planned.
Orchard testified that the murder of Frank Bradley was discussed on a Sunday afternoon in July, 1904, at a conference between Haywood, Pettibone and Orchard in Pettibone's backyard in Denver. Haywood said Orchard should go alone and kill Bradley because he was at the head of the mine-owners and was driving the Federation out of California.

"At the time I put strychnine in Bradley's milk I was thus desperate I did not care whether I killed the whole family of father, mother, baby and three servants," was Orchard's reply to Mr. Richardson's cross-examination on the attempt of Fred Bradley's life in San Francisco. The court adjourned at 3:30 o'clock with Orchard on the stand, telling in the tale the story of the attempt on Bradley's life.

The Independence Affair.
As to the Independence depot at Boise, Orchard said it was planned to blow up the depot before the arrival of the train. This was arranged to save the trainmen. "Why did you want to save the trainmen?" asked Mr. Richardson. "Sherman Parker said that one of the men on the train had been a good witness for him in the trials, and he did not want him to be killed."

Orchard said he heard from neither Haywood nor Meyer while in California, but received letters from Pettibone. These he destroyed immediately after reading them. The first money received from Pettibone in California was $100 by registered letter. Pettibone said in the letter that things were getting warm in Colorado and Johnny Neville and his boy had been arrested and the authorities were looking for Orchard. He said that Orchard had better "lay low."

The letter was signed "Pat Boone." Orchard received some of the money in the name of Harry Green. The witness then repeated his story about putting strychnine into the Bradley family's milk. Orchard had become acquainted with the cook and had once taken her to the theater. He was aware that the family consisted of Bradley, his wife, a baby and three servant girls. The next money was another $100 that came by Postal Telegraph from "Pat Boone." Orchard then admitted that while in San Francisco, he related that one night he went to the end of the cable line at Golden Gate Park and held up a street-car conductor, but the witness was untrue. "Then you confessed to a crime you did not commit?" asked Mr. Richardson. "Yes, and you have confessed to other crimes you never committed!" The prosecution objected. "The object of this was to show," the object was overruled. "I have told such stories among men when we were all telling stories." Although Orchard said he got about $500 while in San Francisco, Peter Hoff, secretary of the Miners' Union, identified him at the telephone office.

Provided the Funds.
After the Independence explosion he went to Denver, he said, and sold largely to the story of Orchard's attempt to poison Bradley, endangering the rest of the Bradley household, including an infant and Mrs. Crow, the cook, with whom he had made friends and whom he had accompanied to the theater. Orchard swore that while in San Francisco he repeatedly received money from Pettibone who used the name of "Pat Boone" in transmitting it. In making this clearer today the defense evidenced an effort to show that this money was sent under Pettibone's disguised name by persons plotting against the leaders of the Western Federation of Miners.

Orchard denied that the mine-owners or railway had any part in the Independence station outbreak and a mania for counter-conspiracy committed crimes and denied that he is under the influence of Detective McFarland. He showed some spirit in answering many of Attorney Richardson's questions, but he finally held up to all his first stories. Counsel for state let today's examination take its course without serious objection and at the close privately signified their entire satisfaction. Orchard has been on the stand five days and has fully two more ahead of him. Steve Adams is tonight in Ida County jail and a close cell neighbor to Haywood, Meyer and Pettibone.

Orchard to go to California and get Fred Bradley, and that the Mayberry plot was abandoned, but why he known Mayberry for several years. "What was the reason for seeing Bradley?" Mr. Richardson asked. "Haywood said he was at the head of the mine-owners Association in California, and was raising a fund of several hundred thousand dollars to drive the federation out of the state," Orchard denied that he had any grudge against Bradley because of his experiences in the Coeur d'Alene. Taking the witness back to the kidnapping of the concentrator mill of the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mines of which Bradley was once the manager, Richardson asked him how long he had been a member of the Federation at that time. "About a month," replied Orchard. Before that he had belonged to the Knights of Labor. On his starting for California to get Bradley, Orchard testified that Pettibone bought his ticket for him and gave him $150 and a new grip sack. Bradley was in Alaska when Orchard reached San Francisco and while waiting he said he had held up a street-car conductor to get the money. In reply to Richardson, he said he was in the habit of telling lies about his criminal exploits.

Orchard thought the first money he received from Pettibone was paid him in the year of the latter's story. Luckily, no one was present. During the time he and Adams were working on Mr. Peabody. Orchard said they got $5 or $100 whenever they asked for it. "Now, these defendants had nothing to do with planning the Viducler mine explosion?" suggested Richardson. "Nothing, other than to pay for it," replied Orchard. He had nothing to do with any of the outrages until the Independence depot affair? "I believe they had something to do with it, yes, sir. I mean as to the planning." "No, they didn't plan it."

Burned Cheese Factory.
Orchard admitted he had burned his cheese factory near Brighton in Canada and collected $600 insurance.

Corrected Himself.
Orchard asked permission to correct two statements made by him on Saturday, one that "Bill" Easterly and himself had made bombs with "Pettibone doing" at Cripple Creek and the other that he and Steve Adams did not carry their guns in holsters.

Attorney Richardson for the defense, brought out that Orchard was in conference with Detective McFarland this morning and with McFarland and Attorney Hawley yesterday and that each morning he visits Hawley's office. "Didn't McFarland speak to you about the method by which you could withdraw a criminal examination?" demanded Mr. Richardson. "No, sir," replied Orchard. "But he spoke of what gave me strength to go through the examination." Orchard has promised nothing. "Now, then," said Richardson, "didn't you make this correction because you discovered that Easterly is here and Ackerman is not?" "No, sir, I knew Easterly was here all the time," Orchard said. "I had heard that Ackerman is in Goldfield, Nevada. Richardson next demanded to know what Orchard had talked with Nelson Franklin and A. E. Carlson of the mine-owners' Association about, when he said he had a certificate of deposit in a bank which had closed and he heard these men were buying such certificates. Orchard denied that he had ever discussed the mining troubles with Franklin Carlson, "Kid" Waterman, Frank N. Bearson, A. T. Holman and Major Tom McCallan. Orchard said he had first discussed the blowing-up of the Independence depot with Parker and Davis, the strike managers in the Cripple Creek district. Haywood whispered constantly to his attorney at this juncture. Orchard said he later discussed the Independence matter with Parker and Davis in Denver and in the lobby of the miners' convention which was in session. The witness declared that it was because Haywood's control of the Federation was in jeopardy in the convention that the leaders wanted "something pulled off."

Richardson next jumped back to the Lyle Gregory murder in Denver and 311. Special attention given to handling the fact if Orchard had not gone to the Adams hotel that evening. "No, sir," replied the witness; "I first went to Pettibone's backyard and buried the sawed-off shot gun and then went home."

Not Guessed.
Orchard denied he had jumped from the window of the Adams hotel while Detective Chief Loomis, of Denver

Orchard to go to California and get Fred Bradley, and that the Mayberry plot was abandoned, but why he known Mayberry for several years. "What was the reason for seeing Bradley?" Mr. Richardson asked. "Haywood said he was at the head of the mine-owners Association in California, and was raising a fund of several hundred thousand dollars to drive the federation out of the state," Orchard denied that he had any grudge against Bradley because of his experiences in the Coeur d'Alene. Taking the witness back to the kidnapping of the concentrator mill of the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mines of which Bradley was once the manager, Richardson asked him how long he had been a member of the Federation at that time. "About a month," replied Orchard. Before that he had belonged to the Knights of Labor. On his starting for California to get Bradley, Orchard testified that Pettibone bought his ticket for him and gave him $150 and a new grip sack. Bradley was in Alaska when Orchard reached San Francisco and while waiting he said he had held up a street-car conductor to get the money. In reply to Richardson, he said he was in the habit of telling lies about his criminal exploits.

WHY THE SPRING WAS BACKWARD

Ottawa, June 11.—Prof. E. Stone Wiggins, who some years ago was famous throughout Canada as an authority on weather problems, but who of late years has preserved a dignified silence on the great topic of perennial interest, has at last been induced to explain to a waiting public the whereabouts of this long lingering of winter in the lap of spring. His explanation published recently is a novel and original one, namely, that there are two moons in the sky. He promises his explanation by stating the sun has nothing to do with it. The prevailing cold weather, he says, must be due to planetary attraction, for it is general all over the globe. It is known that the earth's temperature falls when the sun, earth and moon are in the same straight line; that is at new and full moon when the attraction is greatest on the earth. This attraction is intensified when the moon happens to be in her perigee; that is, when nearest the earth, which is 30,000 miles nearer than at apogee. Suppose the moon to be doubled, that is, to suddenly become double as heavy as it is now. The oceans would rise and flood low lying islands and shores to the height of several feet; the Atlantic would be forced into the isthmus of Darien into the Pacific; earthquakes would occur in all the continents; volcanoes would break into eruption; storms unheeded of would sweep our ocean; the Gulf Stream would be forced northward by the unusual massing of the polar cold waters towards the equator, and the temperature would fall so that snow even in July would cover the world. That is exactly what has just happened, but in milder form. But since the moon's magnitude has not increased, he gives another theory to account for the partly abnormal planetary attraction.

A Very Undesirable Moon, This.
"In 1862," says Prof. Wiggins, "I discovered another moon. It is now at that point of its orbit nearest the earth, and is producing all the aforementioned phenomena in the earth's atmosphere. I knew this moon existed because our visible moon showed a disturbing force in her revolution around the earth, for which astronomers could not account. My strong evidence was the advance of the moon's perigee, for her line of apogee makes a complete revolution of the heavens in nine years. This disturbing force was further shown apart from her librations by the fact that her mean motion during the second half of the eighteenth century was less than during the first half; besides, it is known that she revolves around the earth more rapidly now than in ancient times, thus shortening the lunar month. In 1864 I published a letter in the New York Tribune claiming the discovery, giving the evidence of trustworthy persons a Michigan who declared to me that he saw the moon eclipsed on May 16 of that year, the sky being perfectly cloudless and when our visible moon was in another quarter of the heavens and therefore could not possibly eclipse the sun. This dark moon has an immense carbon atmosphere in which she develops little or no light; it has often been seen by persons who happened to be in the range of incidence of its reflected light. The Toronto Globe said on September 27, 1886: 'A green crescent moon of the most brilliant yet delicate shade, was recently seen in New Zealand. The phenomenon was visible for only half an hour. It has been seen since in North America, but each time only about 20 minutes.'

A German Scientist Saw It.
Dr. George Waltemath of Hamburg said in 1898 that in February of that year he saw in his telescope a second moon to the earth, and calculated its orbit and motion, which agreed very nearly with my published calculations in 1864, more than 12 years before. Schiaparelli, the celebrated Italian astronomer, suggested that if this dark spot exists it must have eclipsed the sun frequently during the historic period, however irregular its orbit. In searching the records he found that the sun was several times eclipsed by some unknown body other than the moon during the historic period, causing widespread darkness and low temperatures for which astronomers could not account. This dark body moves in an elliptical and irregular orbit, being attracted and repelled by the earth as the comets are by the sun. In time its dense atmosphere will distill its carbon into rock oil; the oxygen and carbon will stratify its surface; its sky will become clear, and it will assume all the phases and motions of a regular and visible satellite. This is the cause of our peculiar severe and unusual weather, which can never be predicted till all the phenomena of this dark satellite shall become known to the astronomer.

In the Near Future.
"Isn't our climate becoming colder?" Prof. Wiggins was asked.
"No; the earth is slowly receding from the sun, and the temperature is rising. In the future the astronomers of Mars and Jupiter will look through their telescopes and say that the oceans have disappeared from the earth's poles. Every man and animal going into our northwest is a move to raise the temperature. In time oranges will grow in Canada, and great orchards will hold up their golden fruit before the mirror of Hudson's Bay."

CRICKET MATCH—OPENING PROVINCIAL LEAGUE

STRATHCONA VS. EDMONTON, JUNE 14

AT NEW BALL GROUNDS. ADMISSION, 25c.

SPORTING NEWS

EMPIRE CALLED THE GAME.

Edmonton Was Leading With Every

Appearance of Winning.

Lethbridge, June 14.—Edmonton has led the game in the first half, with a score of three to two and a man on second base and no one out when Empire called the game on account of a wet ground. A light shower fell for ten minutes, and they cleared away the umpire surprised everyone by calling the game. The grounds were not too wet to play, the first being just slightly wet. City was picking for Edmonton and Poppy for Lethbridge.

TALK OF THE DIAMOND.

The night's Lethbridge had a batting average of .354. St. Louis of the American league has the highest in the 200 class, and is in sixth place.

The best batting average on the Chicago team is .24, and that team leads the league.

A writer got busy thinking up old times the other day and observed that although Dan Breen was a mighty slapper he was a poor fielder and a regular ice cream on the bases.

Which recalls that Manager Wagoner of the Detroit team once said in answer to a similar criticism: "Dan is an ice wagon; but he doesn't need to run. He simply carries the ball over the fence and walks around the bases."

Players frequently score from second base on infield hits, but it is rarely that a player goes from first to third on a sacrifice hit. Yet Wagoner of Pittsburgh hit one such hit in a game against St. Louis on Saturday.

LUCK IN BATTING AVERAGES.

Batmen will often hit in very hard luck but the last hard, but unfortunately directly at home. Last enters largely into batting averages. The figures amount to little just at this stage of the game, when there has been so little batting practice.

FOUR AND ROUGH LACROSSE.

Secretary of the Capital, in discussing rough play in lacrosse with a press representative yesterday said: "In the two opening league matches of the N.E.U. season there seemed a strong disposition to rough it, especially at Cornell; and I think a meeting of the league should be called at once to deal with the matter. When players start right in at the opening of the season to commit deliberate acts the league cannot step in and call a halt. I would be willing on behalf of the Caps, to sign a petition with any other club to have such a meeting called at once. This case of lacrosse cannot be too strongly condemned. More severe forms of punishment should be provided. I am convinced from my experience of the game, not only in Canada, but also in England, that it can be played devoid of its brutality without affecting its fine points in any way. Players who commit deliberate fouls should be severely penalized, and if they persist in these tactics they should have no place on any lacrosse team in the game today."

Under Ideal Conditions.

The day began badly with torrent of rain, which occasioned the first disappointment to the crowd. Doubt the absence of Queen Alexandra, however, a big crowd of royalty, headed by King Edward and the Prince of Wales, was present.

As the morning wore on, the weather cleared and the race was run in glorious sunshine and without the discomfort from dust usually present at the Epsom course.

The crowd was perhaps smaller than on previous years, but it has its well known quality and picture galleries, and included a large party of American and Irish, who showed unbounded enthusiasm at the victory of Grey.

Outside of these partisans nobody regarded Grey as a sure winner, and the betting was never better than six to one, the price quoted a few days ago, and today it was 11 to 1 against the mount.

BOWLING.

It has been reported that Geo. Weather the hard hitting second baseman of the Edmonton team, is a bowler.

As a bowler, he is a bowler, as a batsman, he is a batsman. At the Palm Springs all-day last Saturday night Weather went up for the Edmonton record. He got off to a rather poor start, but when he came struck he hit in eight successive strikes and made the very high score of 235. He started his third frame with only 26. The record is held by collaring in line of color expression, particularly in flesh tints. But she gave up painting because she felt that the art of sculpture gave greater opportunity in its fidelity to nature of dealing directly with and around one's subject.

In the group "A Letter From Home" are two figures, a wounded soldier of the Russian army, and a quiet little Red Cross girl who is reading to him the letter with tidings from the wife and little one's at home, a letter doubtless dictated by the village priest. That the news the letter brings is none too cheerful may be seen in the tense lines on the face of the soldier husband as he listens to the soft voice of the sister. The group attracted so much attention when it was exhibited at the leading art gallery of the Russian capital in the Grand Moskva, it was necessary to enclose it with a eulogy and station an officer to keep the crowd moving on.

The Car of Russia is a great arm and patron of Marie Dillou, and several other pieces done by this famous modern sculptress.

FITZ AFTER JACK OBRIEN.

John Fitzmaurice, a report from New York says, is out on the waypath for Philadelphia Jack O'Brien, and says that he is a tight, but the team will meet, no matter where it is. He wants to fight a war with O'Brien for the latter's story to the effect that these two fights were taken place. "HIT! knock 'is blooded," and he," declared Bob.

SEAGRAM HEADS THE LIST.

Toronto, June 4.—Mr. J. E. Seagram, president of the Ontario Jockey Club, heads the list of winning owners at the Woodbine meeting which closed on Saturday, being over $11,000 ahead of the next, who is Mr. T. Andrew Woods.

John Dwyer's Plate victory of Kelvin, and his second in the Hendy handicap on Saturday brought Mr. Woods the big sum of $3,500.

Following is a list of the principal winners:

T. Andrew Woods	3,500
James Turley	3,240

DERBY WIN UNPOPULAR.

The "Tamany" or "Boss" Croker Derby, as it is known, proved in many ways to be the disappointment of the British, but having carried out the 4th, 5th and 6th of the year.

When the Jockey Club excluded his horses from Newmarket without assigning any reason, of one day winning the Derby, the British public, who had waged a lot of money on the beaten favorite, Sir George, and who like to see the blue ribbon carried off by a little or aristocratic sportsman, was keenly disappointed.

The day began badly with torrent of rain, which occasioned the first disappointment to the crowd. Doubt the absence of Queen Alexandra, however, a big crowd of royalty, headed by King Edward and the Prince of Wales, was present.

OCEAN YACHT RACE.

Two of Contestants in New York-Bermuda Race Have Failed.

Hamilton, Bermuda, June 11.—The two boats, W. E. Meyer, St. George's Yacht Club, another of the contestants in the New York-Bermuda ocean race, arrived here this morning after a tempestuous voyage.

In the Gulf Stream on Saturday the wind blew with hurricane force and the yacht was flooded fore and aft. The rolling of the vessel upset its keelson oil store in the galley and set fire to the vessel. For a time much excitement prevailed, as several times it was feared that the boat would be lost.

The ship came, D. R. W. Barrows, Royal Bermuda Yacht Club, also arrived here during the morning.

Financial and Commercial News

New York, June 10.—Money on call quoted, prime mercantile paper 5 to 12, exchange $172.00, 120.

Boston, June 10.—Copper range was easy today. Copper range lost 1 1/2 to 7 1/2. North Butte 3 1/2 to 80 1/4. The market was without feature.

New York, June 10.—Rush steady, straight common to good $4.85 to $4.90; turpentine steady, 60 to 60 1/2; pig iron steady, Northern $23.75 to $24.75, Southern $22.00 to $23.50; cop per, normal and steady, Lake $24.00 to $24.50; lead dull, $23.75 to $23.80; tin dull, straight $40.00 to $41.50, flat at $41.50; place dull, spelter dull, domestic $2.40 to $2.50.

New York, June 10.—Money on call steady, highest 2 1/4 per cent, lowest 1 3/4; ruling rate last loan 2, clearing bid 1 1/2, offered at 3. Time loans strong sixty days 3 1/4 to 4 per cent, and ninety days 3 3/4 to 4 per cent, six months 5 per cent.

What Prices.—Wheat receipts, 92,700, exports 143,500, sales 230,000. Spot easy. Bullish prevailed in wheat circles today, pending the crop reports. Early reports of news was followed by a period of depression due to unloading and more unfavorable crop news. Following the report which was more bearish than expected, prices broke a cent, rallying a little in the last few moments. The close was 28 to 34 cent lower.

The Stock Market.—New York, June 10.—The usual result followed today in the stock market from the weekend recovery in prices. That is some moderate outside demand was attracted. The advance of the first hour yielded almost entirely before the force of profit taking sales. The subsequent lull was attributed to the desire of operators to see the completion of the government report on the condition of the wheat crop before venturing on commitment. It was not until the appearance of this report, which was delayed until two o'clock, that anything like animation reliving in the market. It gave prompt evidence, then, of relief from the apprehension caused by the reports of Saturday regarding the extreme deterioration of the Kansas crop, and by gloomy forecasts by a private crop report circulated in the financial district today. The government figures were accepted as a refutation of these alarming reports. Prices advanced to the highest of the day after the appearance of the report in consequence with the sharp reaction in wheat. The midday reaction to stocks was helped by the consideration of the weekly bank statement of Saturday, especially as Saturday's gold shipments were supposed not to have been reflected by the statement, even with the large access in the cash loan over estimates. An important development in the international money situation was the creation of the Paris demand for gold. The Bank of England secured practically all of the supply of gold in the London market, at a price a fraction lower than last week, and there was apparently no bid for French account. The rally in stocks after the publication of the crop report was aided by professional as an occasion for free profit taking, and prices ran off again to the lowest of the day for many stocks and made the closing easy. Bonds were firm. Total sales par value $1,255,000. United States bonds were unchanged.

Session Postponed.—Grand, Man, June 10.—The opening session of Grand lodge, Knights of Pythias, which was to have taken place this afternoon, had to be adjourned until tomorrow morning, owing to the trains from both east and west being several hours late. This was found necessary through the non-arrival of the Grand lodge officers.

Mine Inspector Olives Evidence.—Coleman, June 11.—District Mine Inspector Heathcote of Lethbridge told the coal commission this morning that he visited every mine in his district every two months and denied the report that he notified the operators when he was going to make an inspection. He says his inspection takes from two to five days. He investigates all accidents and attends all inquests. The miners, he said, were enabled to investigate the conditions of a mine. The pit committee appointed by the men had that power, and he always attended to their recommendations. He admitted there was enough work for two inspectors in his district, which covers what was Crow's last line from Medicine Hat to the British Columbia boundary and from High River south to the United States boundary. He did not believe any benefit would result from his pending his reports. He thought a working plan of the mine giving outlet, etc., would be more helpful to the men, especially in cases of danger. He did not think it was possible to have sufficient inspection to prevent all accidents. Mr. Heathcote said he never found anything wrong with the ventilation of the mines at Taber. It will be remembered that at the Lethbridge sitting the miners complained of the bad ventilation.

IMMIGRATION ARRIVALS.—Among the arrivals at the immigration offices yesterday were six families of settlers from Virginia, two from Germany and two from South America. A planes at the register at either office is all that is necessary to remove one of the compatriot character of the people coming. Taking yesterday's entries on the register of the Jasper avenue office and picking them out at random, the following names and addresses may be found: George Neilson, Bathgate, N. P.; J. H. Dallimore, Johannesburg, South Africa; C. A. Peters, St. Vincent, Minn.; M. Witeen, Holland; U. O. Glomlin, Govan, Sask.; J. C. Duncan, Pittsburg, Pa.; five in a bunch from Oklahoma, besides the above mentioned families representing Virginia and South America. There were no Galicians registered among the lot, but the immigration officials say 373 Galician settlers have arrived in Edmonton and Strathcona during the past four days.

One young Spanish lad from South America, about 16 years of age, raised a little movement among the crowd yesterday. He thought himself thoroughly qualified for a pretty fair job and was of the opinion that office work would about be the thing. He was asked if he could read and write English. "No, but me can do the Spanish."

A BARBER'S BILL.

The Case of a Young Man Who Gave

Two Large an Order.

A young man entered a barber shop the other day, intending to get a shave. Owing to the different pliancies of the operating attendant, he consented to a haircut, a shampoo, a shave, a face massage and several other luxuries constantly on tap in the establishment. When the orgy was over, the victim received a bill for $2.98, and as he contemplated the figures with some astonishment and alarm, the proprietor said, "We billed your order, aren't you satisfied?" His reply was, "I guess I ordered it, but I am not satisfied." His situation was in no sense comparable to that of the man who purchases a Goulay piano. He is always satisfied. The other day, in one mail, the firm of Goulay, Winter and Leeming, Toronto, received four letters from happy owners of Goulay pianos. Mrs. Lucy Ward of Battledore, said: "The piano has weathered the most severe winter in a most satisfactory manner." Mr. A. Walter of Salt Spring Island, B.C., said: "We consider the piano a very fine instrument, and it is generally much admired." Mrs. (Rev.) R. C. Pollock, of Theherne, Man., said: "We find the piano to be all you claim for it." And Mrs. Fred L. Griffith, of Kelowna, Ont., had this to say: "We are much pleased with our piano and we believe your pianos are finding favor in this community, for there are now five here. Not only in Melbourne, but in all parts of Canada, the Goulay is finding favor as a high class instrument of rich and luscious tone, and built of the best material available."

CROP PROSPECT IS GOOD

Brandon, June 11.—Mr. James Murray, the new superintendent of the Dominion experimental farm here, has no fear that the backwardness of the season will militate against the production of a heavy wheat crop in the Canadian west this year. He is particularly well informed with reference to conditions in Manitoba on account of the position which he now holds. He has recently given up an important place in the department of agriculture at Regina, and he is therefore thoroughly familiar with the situation in that province. Mr. Murray finished the following statement to The Globe recently:

"The tardiness of the spring has unfortunately given rise to all sorts of surmises regarding the probabilities of a good wheat crop. While it must be admitted that there is ground for some misgivings, it would appear that too much prominence has been accorded the possibilities of a short crop, and entirely too little to the rational consideration of conditions as they exist in comparison with those of previous years. During the past winter we had an unusually heavy snowfall, a condition that in itself was anything but detrimental.

Very Cold April.

"The month of April was the coldest that had been experienced for many years; the snow was late in going, and it was impossible to go on the land as early as was ordinarily the case. At present, it is true, there is little sign of growth in our trees, and the grass is not nearly so forward as in an average year. Throughout May the temperature has not been favorable for rapid growth; in fact there have been few nights in which the thermometer did not register frost. In spite of these conditions there is ample reason to look forward to the harvesting of a good crop.

Moisture Plentiful.

"The heavy fall of snow, melting gradually as it did this year, was sufficient to fill the soil with a plentiful supply of moisture, and very little of the water ran off. The land which had been summer fallowed—and there is always a large area prepared for fall wheat in this way, particularly in Saskatchewan—has an abundant supply of moisture. This store of moisture is most essential to a healthy start of the crop, and the reason very often means a poor growth for several weeks, or until the June rains come. The cold weather has effectively held the early growth in check, but early growth is frequently more detrimental than otherwise. Warm weather early in the season brings the grain up early, which it has a weak and often a shallow root, and freezing back to this time is a severe tax on the vitality of the young plant. This is more particularly the case when a poor quality of seed is sown, as the roots are not sufficiently vital to get out another strong shoot.

"Wheat sown in the first half of May is now strongly rooted and well above the ground in nearly all cases—in the best possible condition to succeed now that more favorable weather prevails. An examination of wheat sown about the 17th would be a surprise to many, as the root growth is unusually strong and deep, in a condition to draw on the supply of moisture.

Period of Growth Required.

"Experiments conducted on the experimental farm over many years show that Red Fife wheat requires from 110 to 135 days to mature. From 90 per cent. of the wheat in Manitoba and Saskatchewan is of this variety.

Following are the figures for the past seven years:

"1900—Sown April 17th; harvested 125 days.
 August 31—125 days.
 "1901—Sown May 3; harvested August 22—125 days.
 "1902—Sown May 6; harvested August 28—120 days.
 "1903—Sown April 22; harvested 121 days.

"1904—Sown May 4; harvested September 7—120 days.
 "1905—Sown April 18; harvested August 29—141 days.
 "1906—Sown April 24; harvested August 17—115 days.

"The average length of time required to mature during this period was 123 days. It is worthy of note, however, that in the years when seeding was completed earliest a longer time elapsed between the date of sowing and the date of maturity. The record of the farm shows also that usually when seeding was completed early and the grain made a good start, it was cut back by the late frost. In 1902 seeding was completed on the experimental farm on May 16, but the month of June was frosty, and the rain made little progress until late in June. In 1900 the wheat was sown as early as April 16, but there was a heavy frost on June 8, and the spring was an unusually dry one, no rain falling until June 20. The growth started early, but it was set back by the frost, and little progress was made until after the middle of June. The resultant crop was only 21 bushels and 20 pounds per acre, one very much below the average on this farm.

Late Seeding Profitable.

"For many years an interesting series of experiments were conducted in sowing wheat at different dates, and while the results varied somewhat with different seasons, the highest yields were almost always obtained from grain sown ten days to two weeks after the time when the land could first be worked. The earliest sown wheat frequently lay in the ground for some time before starting growth, and when it did germinate the growth was irregular, and the crop therefore uneven. The earliest sown plots were usually thinner, stood more persistently, hence did not ripen as uniformly as early as the intermediate crops.

Condition of Soil Important.

"These illustrations are sufficient to show that a successful crop depends not so much upon the time the seed is sown as upon the condition of the soil at the time of sowing, and on the weather conditions later in the season. It is true that most of the wheat in Manitoba and Saskatchewan has been sown at a later date than usual this year, but it has been sown for the most part in soil well prepared. Furthermore, the seed sown this year has been of uniformly better quality than in many previous years. This is largely due to the campaign conducted during the past few years in favor of better seed, and to the good average quality of the wheat crop last year. Strong, vigorous seed becomes much more firmly rooted than inferior seed, and is in a position to make better headway.

"Considering all the conditions, there is, in my opinion, little ground for apprehension, much less alarm. The wheat in many districts has been sown for over a week, and is progressing favorably, and with favorable conditions from now on and a fall no earlier than we have had for several years there should be no difficulty in getting a large crop harvested in good condition."

The statistics of the Experimental Farm, showing an average of 121 days for the growth of Red Fife wheat, indicate the rule; but there are some important exceptions. A few years ago wheat raised near Regina ripened and was cut 96 days after seeding. It was shown at the Winnipeg Exhibition, and took first prize in a host of exhibits. Everything depends upon the weather which follows seeding. At the present time the weather conditions are excellent, and farmers are hoping that the finishing of the past few days will continue for a few weeks at least.

Tonight the Pringle Company will play "Tracy by Tracery," a five act comedy drama. Specialties will be introduced between acts and also during the play. Little Hazel Wain will help out in this respect.

The specialties introduced by the Pringle Company at the Edmonton Theatre were received with much favor by last night's audience. New ones are announced for this evening's play.

At the Bijou, Mr. John Hall, the well known baritone, gave a fine rehearsal of his illustrated song. He has an excellent voice of full compass. He was very heartily applauded. Miss George Franklin acquitted herself in her usual style. The pictures were good, and those who have the privilege of having a mother-in-law should see the amusing skit,
"Too much mother-in-law." It affords a hearty laugh to the audience and plenty of fun.

The fire brigade had a run yesterday afternoon to extinguish a blaze in a small stable at the rear of a grocery store on the east side of First, just north of Southland street. The blaze had got quite a start in a pile of old hay piled up behind the stable, but was put out by the chemical without much damage being done.

What might have proved a fatal accident occurred as the brigade were returning up First street. Miss Elizabeth Targrove, the daughter of Nicholas Targrove, who resides on Second street, east of the Alberta Milling Company's mill, was driving a rather spirited horse which got beyond her control and dashed along Woodworth east towards Queen's avenue. When the wheels struck the sidewalk at McDougall, Miss Targrove was violently thrown out and received severe bruises to head, hands and left arm. Although she got a bad shaking up she sustained no serious injuries. The horse was captured by some men a block or so farther east.

RIFLE PRACTICE.
Rifle practice will take place at the range to-night. Members desiring to shoot should be at the river end of Christie street at seven o'clock, where a host will be in readiness to take them across. Ammunition can be obtained at the Cameron House.

THREATENING TO SHOOT.

At the police court last night John Schinke, who is caretaker of the city nursance ground at the northeast end of the city, was arraigned on complaint of John E. Carmichael for threatening to shoot.

Carmichael's story is that Schinke was beating two boys that had found their way into the enclosure and he was asked by the mother one and another woman to go to their assistance. He did so with the result that Schinke went into his shack, got a rifle and came out threatening to shoot. He did not leave the premises immediately.

The case was adjourned till Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

PATIENT IS RECOVERING.

H. A. Fish, late of Belleville, Ont., who has been suffering from a mild attack of smallpox, is making a rapid recovery at the tent, where he is quar-antined at the northwest of the city.
There is one nurse in attendance and also a guard.

Eight of the employees of the hot air which was released from quarantine are also being held for a few days at a detention tent. One girl at first refused to be vaccinated, but later consented.

The city medical health officer, Dr.
Ternan, has issued a pre-emptory
note to the principals of the city schools, pointing out that steps should at once be taken to have a thorough vaccination of all the pupils, but as yet no replies have been received to his communication.
